

Hope Fades for Second Explorer

Only Slight Hope of Picking Up Radio Signal

Navy Vanguard Rocket Now Ready For Its Third Try

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP)—Scientists sounded the wilderness of space today for the voice of America's lost "moon," but as the hours of silence stretched out hope faded for the second Explorer satellite launched by the Army Jupiter-C rocket.

There was a chance that momentarily a radio somewhere might pick up the signal of the slender, 80-inch cylinder. The systems of minitrack and microlock stations set up to track satellites were on 24-hour alert for some sign of the man-made moon.

There was a slimmer chance the satellite might be whirling in an unanticipated orbit with both its tiny radio transmitters dead.

One of the key Army scientists here who launched the fiery, four-stage Jupiter-C with the 324-pound Explorer II jutting from its nose said Wednesday night it was "quite possible" the satellite was speeding helplessly in an uncharted orbit around the globe.

All that was needed to prove the satellite was in the sky was a response from the tiny tape recorder it carried to the electronic "interrogations" being put out constantly from the ground.

But as the hours piled up with no sound from Explorer II, hopes grew dimmer that it survived the intricacies of being blasted into orbit hundreds of miles above the earth at the fantastic speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

Dr. William F. Pickering of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in California, which built the satellite and the final three stages of the Jupiter-C said there was a "great probability" the satellite failed to go into orbit.

"There is every indication that the satellite did not function normally," Pickering said. But he added that "We cannot state positively whether it is in orbit or not, but it probably is not."

He also said Explorer might have faltered on its arching climb into the heavens and careened back ignominiously into the ocean. Meanwhile, Explorer I, successfully launched Jan. 31 also by a Jupiter-C, continued sending back information as it sped around the earth with the heavier Russian Sputnik II.

Eyes turned, too, toward the Navy Vanguard rocket, launched twice unsuccessfully with a 6.4-inch spherical satellite in its nose and now ready in its service tower for a third try, expected before the week is out.

Lancaster Infant Dies

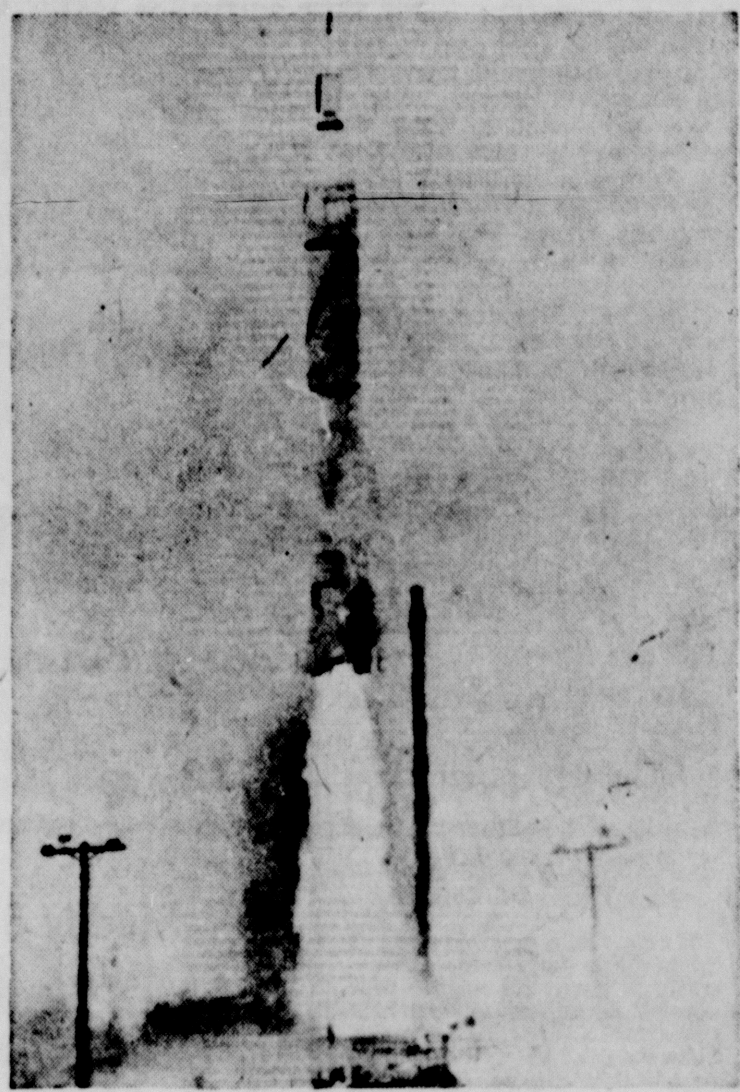

Infant Bryan Keith Lancaster, one-day-old son of the Rev. and Mrs. Bert Lancaster of Dawson, has died at Dawson, according to word received in Harrisburg today. Rev. Lancaster is the son of Sheldon Lancaster and the late Mamie Lancaster of Harrisburg. Graveside services will be held in Sunset Hill cemetery on Saturday.

Death Takes Mrs. Mary Bowers Raney, Resident of Eldorado

Mrs. Mary Bowers Raney, 83, 901 Harding street, Eldorado, died in the Ferrell hospital at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday following a week in the hospital and failing health for about two years.

She is survived by her children, Mrs. Alva Healy, Norris City, Gordon Bowers, Mt. Vernon, Ind., George Bowers, Manito, and Harley Shain, Bakersfield, Calif. She is also survived by her half-sister, Mrs. Zulpha Lasseter, and her half-brother Hal Shain, both of Eldorado. One son, John Bowers, preceded her in death about 5 years ago and her sisters, Emma Brown and Ola Giles, also preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Bean and Tanner funeral chapel and burial will be in the Village cemetery at Norris City.

ROCKET TAKES OFF. The Army Jupiter C, carrying the second Explorer satellite, takes off at Cape Canaveral, but hope is fading that the satellite orbited in space. No radio signal has been received from the "lost moon."

Challenge to Farm Policy

House, Senate Groups Approve Bills to Reverse Benson Order

WASHINGTON (UP)—House and Senate farm law writers today approved legislation that would reverse price support cuts ordered by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson.

In a direct challenge to administration farm policy:

—The Senate Agriculture Committee approved, 9-3, a bill to freeze all price support and acreage allotments at not less than 1957 levels.

—A House Agriculture subcommittee approved, 5-0, a bill to cancel the reduction in dairy supports ordered by Benson.

Besides canceling the reduction in dairy supports, the chief effect of the Senate committee's action would be to void a 22 cents a bushel cut in this year's supports for wheat. Benson has ordered wheat props trimmed to $1.78 a bushel from last year's $2.00.

Both House and Senate bills would cancel a reduction in dairy supports scheduled to take effect in 26 days.

The controversial order has produced sharp protests from dairy state congressmen.

In issuing it Dec. 18, Benson said it could be expected to result in lowering consumer prices by about 1/2 cent a quart for milk and about 2 cents a pound for butter and cheese.

Benson's order at the farm level would reduce supports to about $3.03 for manufacturing milk and 56.2 cents for butterfat. Present levels are $2.25 and 58.6 cents, respectively.

The dairy bill, sponsored by Chairman Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.), was approved by the House subcommittee a few hours after it received a written report from Benson opposing the proposal. The bill would prohibit cuts in dairy supports for a two-year period ending March 31, 1960.

House farm leaders hoped to incorporate the dairy measure into a package bill similar to that approved today by the Senate group. Abernethy said he expects the full House Agriculture Committee to act next week.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) disclosed that the Senate group also approved a resolution to hold-the-line on dairy products, in addition to the catch-all freeze bill.

The attacker, a Negro, grabbed Mrs. Rodriguez' purse and plunged the scissors into her back, she said. As he attempted to run away, the man was interrupted by a neighbor.

The neighbor, who was unidentified, failed to catch the man but caused him to drop the stolen purse. It contained $6.

Mrs. I. N. Cox, Former Eldorado Resident, Dies in Springfield

Mrs. I. N. Cox, formerly of Eldorado, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Halie Morehead, in Springfield Wednesday evening. Mrs. Cox was best known in Eldorado as the former Teora Schaffer and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Eldorado.

Mr. Cox survives and was formerly an undertaker in Shawneetown, Eldorado, Norris City and Omaha. Other daughters surviving are Mrs. Julia Lane, Springfield and a daughter now living in Michigan. Mrs. Cox has nieces residing in Eldorado.

Funeral plans had not been completed when the word was received in Harrisburg.

Burn Mortgage of White County Farm Bureau Building

CARMI, Ill. (UP)—The President of the Illinois Agricultural Assn. cited the work of the White County Farm Bureau Wednesday as it burned the mortgage of its $110,000 building here.

Otto Steffey, Stronghurst, confined his remarks to the mortgage burning ceremony and the work of the Farm Bureau. He described the building as "one of the nicest in the state."

The two-story brick building was constructed in 1946 with $50,000 in donations and $60,000 borrowed capital.

Presiding at the mortgage burning ceremony, witnessed by some 200 persons were Harry Richards, Crossville, board member, and Glenn Burroughs, Farm Bureau president, and Mrs. M. L. Armstrong, Home Bureau president, both of Carmi.

Hope Warmer Weather Will Cut Jobless Rolls

CHICAGO (UP)—A possible break in the weather today was counted on to help Illinois alleviate a near-record unemployment problem.

State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins reported 219,560 jobless persons applied for unemployment compensation benefits in Illinois during the week ended Feb. 22. The figure was only 7,534 below the record insured unemployment figure set April 23, 1949.

Cummins said he hoped warmer weather might cut the jobless rolls. He estimated that about 4,000 construction workers have returned to their jobs since the cold weather lifted recently.

Samuel C. Bernstein, state unemployment compensation director, cited an increase of about 20 per cent in joblessness from Feb. 15 to Feb. 22, the number climbing from 182,903 to 219,560.

Bernstein said the state's jobless figure increased by 136.1 per cent when compared with the week ended Feb. 23, 1957.

In Cook County, the Welfare Department said the 58,696 Chicagoans on relief in February was the greatest number since January, 1943.

County Welfare Director Raymond M. Hilliard said the relief total was up 5,447 from January, and 16,086 above February, 1957, relief roll totals.

Hilliard was unable to estimate the overall Cook County relief load, but felt it probably was over the 60,000 mark. In the county outside Chicago, 2,269 persons were on relief in January.

Robert Nelson, United Charities of Chicago, said that "If I've seen a crisis, this is it. I certainly urge the governor to call a special session and in advance of the election campaign."

Charge by Kohler Attorney Touches Off Stormy Session by Senate Rackets Committee

WASHINGTON (UP)—Lyman C. Conger, a Kohler Co. attorney, charged today that he was approached "in a threatening manner" by a union official after he had testified Wednesday before the Senate Rackets Committee.

His statement touched off the most stormy session yet in the committee's investigation of the 4-year-old strike by the United Auto Workers against the Wisconsin plumbing fixture firm.

When Joseph L. Rauh Jr., the union's attorney, tried to answer he was interrupted by Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.). Mundt demanded that the official named by Conger—UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey—be called to answer for himself.

Rauh and Mundt engaged in a shouting match which Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) finally ended by springing to his feet and banging the committee table with six lusty blows of the gavel. Conger, a slightly built man, told the committee Mazey "approached me in a threatening manner" after his testimony Wednesday and "unleashed against me such foul language that I prefer not to repeat it unless specifically directed to do so."

While he was not intimidated by the language, Conger said, "such treatment could very well intimidate future witnesses."

Rauh finally was permitted to reply. He told the committee Mazey's remarks were prompted by Conger's statement that he had "spies" following the UAW official.

McClellan, still smouldering, warned both sides that he would consider any attempt to intimidate a witness as contempt of Congress.

And, he said, if union and company representatives want to quarrel among themselves "get out of here to do it!"

Communists Shoot Down U. S. Sabrejet In Korea

Barely Miss Knocking Out Second Fighter

Pilot Parachutes, Seen Drifting Into Communist Territory

OSAN AIR BASE, Korea (UP)—Communist anti-aircraft guns today shot down a U. S. Air Force F86 Sabrejet and barely missed knocking a second American jet fighter out of the sky, it was reported.

The American planes were attacked near the demilitarized zone.

The pilot of the second jet, identified as 1st Lt. Ronald E. Martin, Rock Hill, Mo., said the pilot of the doomed plane managed to eject himself and when last seen was drifting into Communist territory.

The two Sabrejets were on a low-level simulated ground support training mission for Republic of Korea troops about 65 miles north of Seoul when the Red guns opened up.

"They were just up on some ground support stuff," said one Air Force source, "and bam-they're hit."

The demilitarized zone, set up under the armistice agreement, cuts across the peninsula, and separates South Korea from the Communist North.

The Air Force said the pilot of the second plane "saw the lead aircraft get hit and crash."

It added, the pilot "then momentarily saw a parachute with the pilot floating toward the ground just over the Communist side of the line."

The name of the pilot of the doomed plane was withheld.

Air Force sources said the United Nations Command probably would call for a meeting of the Korea Military Armistice Commission to discuss the incident. There also will be demands the pilot be returned, if he landed safely, the sources said.

Pilots said there was a "pretty strong" wind blowing in the area at the time the planes were making the low-level passes and there was a chance the Sabrejets could have been blown a bit off course.

It was the third plane incident involving American planes and the Communists in the past 18 months. Last June a U. S. Navy carrier plane was hit by Chinese Communist anti-aircraft batteries off the China coast. In August, 1956, 16 Americans died when a Navy patrol plane was shot down by the Chinese Reds.

McGowan Rites at Eldorado Friday

The funeral of Guy "Pete" McGowan, 79, 1712 Ridge street, Eldorado, who died Wednesday, will be held in the Eldorado Church of God at 2 p. m. Friday. The Rev. V. B. Raines, assisted by the Rev. Lawrence Gibson, will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home until the funeral.

Attend District Bankers Meeting

Richard Davenport of the Harrisburg National Bank and Harold Parker and Steve Starkey of the First National Bank of Harrisburg attended a meeting of District 10, Illinois Bankers Association, at Carbondale yesterday.

During the afternoon there was a forum at Southern Illinois University, followed by a business meeting at the Carbondale-Elks lodge home.

At the Elks home at 6:30 p. m. there was a dinner meeting attended by 320 persons from southern Illinois.

77 Freight Cars Derailed; 1 Man Killed, 2 Hurt

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UP)—An east-bound freight train with about 77 cars was derailed just west of Scott AFB early today, throwing the engine from the tracks and jackknifing 17 cars.

One man was killed and two others seriously injured.

Authorities said the Southern railroad train was derailed at a spur one-quarter mile west of the base about 2:30 a. m. The engine was thrown on its side and skidded hundreds of feet before it stopped.

Engineer Bruce Cox, about 65, Princeton, Ind., was killed. Air Force personnel said his body was buried in dirt plowed into the cab as the engine skidded on its side.

Two crewmen, R. A. Bruce, 57, Princeton, and Ellis Johnson, 53, Patoka, Ind., were taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. Bruce, a fireman in the cab with the engineer, suffered a deep laceration of the forehead and injuries to the left leg.

Johnson, who received a back injury, was in the caboose with two other men who escaped unhurt.

The heavily-loaded freight cars tore up track and struck down poles and wires.

Mother Asks $20,000 Judgment For Son's Death

A judgment of $20,000 is asked from a tavern owner in a lawsuit on file in Saline county circuit court.

Seeking the judgment under provisions of the Illinois Dram Shop act is Mrs. Mildred Johnson of near Harrisburg, administratrix of the estate of her son, James W. Johnson, killed in an auto collision on Route 45 four miles north of Carrier Mills last Aug. 3. Defendant is Howard Bateman.

The complaint, filed for her by Atty. Lester R. Lightfoot of Harrisburg, charges that Silas Henry Gordon was sold or given intoxicating beverages at the Bateman tavern in Elizabethtown and that Gordon became intoxicated.

It says that cars driven by Gordon and Johnson collided after Gordon had drunk the beverages, and that Mrs. Johnson was deprived of a means of support when her son was killed.

North Koreans Release 26 Air Travelers, After Moscow Pressure

PANMUNJOM (UP)—The Communists, yielding to reported pressure from Moscow, today released the 26 air travelers who were kidnapped in the South Korean airliner that Red gunmen hijacked last month.

The prisoners—two Americans, two Germans and 22 South Koreans—were handed over to Allied authorities here. They were taken to a nearby Allied base in a bus whose destination sign read "Freedom."

The Americans—pilot Willis Hobbs, of Vallejo, Calif., and Air Force Lt. Col. Howard W. McClelland of Buchanan, Mich., who was logging air time as his copilot—were the last to be released.

"I feel wonderful," Hobbs said. "It's wonderful to be back."

Quibbling by Koreans from both sides of the border delayed the return of the captives for hours but eventually they reconciled their differences and the 22 travelers were set free.

The Communists, who had brought the prisoners here in a bus, started them back into Communist territory when South Korean Red Cross representative Kim Ho Kin refused to sign the second of two sets of receipts demanded by the Communists.

Communist Col. Kim Joon Kyung, no relation, blamed the United States for the southern Kim's attitude, even though U. S. Embassy Counselor T. Elliott Weil had signed all the receipts the Communists requested for the return of his countrymen without a murmur.

The returning prisoners confirmed the story South Korean police had pieced together to account for the plane hijack, with the exception of one detail—the airliner was snatched by eight Reds masquerading as passengers instead of seven, the figure reported by police.

Sen. Gore Proposes Doubling Highway Construction Program

Congressman Urges Distribution Of Surplus Food

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) proposed today that the nation's highway construction program be about doubled this year as a powerful anti-recession measure.

Gore, chairman of the Senate Roads subcommittee, said he will press for Senate approval of such legislation before Easter.

He summoned federal highway chief Bertram D. Tallamy to appear before the subcommittee to testify on the regular federal-aid highways program.

The present plan calls for work this year on about 1,200,000,000 dollars worth of contracts on the 41,000-mile network of interstate superhighways.

Surplus Food to Needy

Gore told the United Press this should be about doubled. He said state highway engineers already have reported they could get work started this year on that amount of interstate highway contracts.

The senator also proposed that the federal government put up more money for work in addition to present plans on the regular federal-aid primary secondary and urban roads.

In another anti-recession development, Rep. Victor L. Afuso (D-N. Y.) introduced a bill to provide for distribution of one billion dollars worth of surplus food to needy Americans through a food stamp plan similar to that used during the depression of the 1930s.

Afuso said his House Agriculture subcommittee will hold hearings on the measure and various state governors will be invited to testify.

Changes in the present law or larger federal appropriations—or both—apparently would be required to get the money to finance a stepped-up highway construction program. There is a pay-as-you go provision in the law now.

Ask Tax Cut

Many states have said they would be unable to furnish additional matching funds for the regular federal-aid highway program. But Gore pointed out that during the depression of the 30s, the federal government put up the money for all the cost. The states' portion was charged against allotments of future years.

Elsewhere on the economic front:

—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) disclosed that he has advised Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee that he will offer an amendment for a one-year 5 per cent cut on the first $1,000 of taxable personal income.

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) offered anti-recession program which included "a prompt and meaningful tax cut, designed to increase purchasing power."

Apathy on Education

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT If the Russian earth satellite launchings frightened us into taking a hard look at the deficiencies of our educational system, the scare does not seem to have gone very deep. Many signs exist that we are beginning to shrug it off.

Already well known is the rising doubt that Congress will do anything much on this score. President Eisenhower's program, with its heavy emphasis on student scholarships, faces dark prospects.

Even on levels well below the federal, many citizens do not appear eager to shell out more money to improve their schools.

Earlier this month, voters in roughly 50 of New Jersey's nearly 800 school districts rejected all or part of the school budgets their boards of education submitted. In 1957, including a considerable period before the launchings, the total of turn-downs also was high.

City and state officials in Connecticut are saying nowadays that too much money is being laid out for education. The state's schools stand high, but evidently there is resistance to lifting them higher.

New York state ranks second behind California in average salaries paid to teachers, yet in the last couple of years its citizens have been slapping down school bond issues (for new construction) right and left.

This sampling from one sector of the nation could be matched in others.

All along, the argument has been widely offered that there was no need for the federal government to dispense major aid to education because people at the state and local levels could handle the problem. The record indicates, however, that people on their home grounds for the most part do not wish to foot a bigger educational bill.

It is not entirely clear whether this resistance means people think their educational system is all right as it is, or whether they simply don't care enough one way or the other.

If, as many educators and other leading public figures believe, the system is faulty, then to dismiss the matter now with a shrug could be perilous. You do not fix up the schools of a great nation with a quick, last-minute, shot-in-the-arm of money. They need thoughtful care continuously year after year, without end.

36 Traffic Deaths In State During One Week Period

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The state Traffic Safety Division reported today there were 36 traffic deaths in Illinois last week, compared with 45 for the corresponding week last year.

The figure for last week ran from Feb. 25 through Monday, March 3.

The 36 deaths included 29 persons who died immediately in traffic accidents and seven who died of injuries received earlier or about whom the reports were received late.

The 29 immediate deaths included 8 in Cook County, 3 in Rock Island County, 2 each in Union, McHenry, and Whiteside counties, and 1 each in Kankakee, McLean, Lake, Hancock, St. Clair, Henry, Macon, Sangamon, Douglas, Knox, Kane and DuPage counties.

The seven other deaths included four in Cook County, and one each in Williamson, Lake and Whiteside counties.

Different Views of How Bad It Is

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: White House Advisers Disagree Regarding Cures For Depression; Navy Scientists Shun Overtime Pay In Working On Vanguard; Ike Says Dairy Supports May Not Drop On April 1.

WASHINGTON. — Disagreement continues among Eisenhower economic advisers regarding the best way to end the "depression" — a word which Ike used for the first time last week.

One group believes a tax cut and wage controls will do the trick. Ike himself sides with these advisers. He inclines toward the Herbert Hoover theory, twice expressed in the past two weeks, that here is nothing much wrong with the economy which a little public confidence won't cure. A chins-up fireside chat may attempt to restore that confidence.

Other advisers are more worried, believe it will take some real pump-priming, a further drastic cut in the Federal Reserve requirements, and a sizable boost of consumer buying power before there is a business pick-up. They favor a real reclamation program for the West and a speed-up in the slow-moving federal highway program, plus a much bolder easing of credit.

What worries them is the fact that consumers have bought so heavily on the installment plan that buying power is at a low ebb. Auto production is at a discouraging low. Until buying power is restored, White House advisers warn there will be no pick-up in business.

NAVY SCIENTISTS SACRIFICE There's been a lot written about the tragic setbacks of the Navy's satellite Vanguard, but little about the heroic efforts of Navy scientists to overcome those setbacks. One interesting feature is that budget officers, anxious to keep down overtime pay, gave rigid instructions that scientists should work no more than eight hours a day, 40 hours a week.

These orders have been completely, though secretly, ignored. The secrecy results from the fact that Navy scientists don't want to get into a wrangle with budget officers. The Budget Bureau frowns on overtime for fear government employees will come along later and try to collect for it. So the scientists have kept their overtime to themselves.

This throws significant light on the money-ahead-of-space-conquest attitude of budget officers. They don't seem interested in the fact that the United States has lost great world prestige as a result of getting behind Russia in the Sputnik race. What they are interested in is dollars.

IKE ON BENSON Republican Congressman A. L. (Doc) Miller and Phil Weaver of Nebraska knew the odds were against them when they walked into President Eisenhower's office the other day to sound out Ike on whether he would oust his bloody-but-unbowed secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

When they walked back out, the odds hadn't changed. They were still about 100 to 1 against Benson's resigning, at least by presidential request.

The two Nebraska congressmen didn't immediately lay their cards on the table. Instead, they talked about "economic unrest" among Midwest farmers, which they contended, was bound to get worse if Benson's order lowering dairy support prices was allowed to go into effect on April 1. Gradually Miller worked around to the main business.

"There are other considerations of a political nature, Mr. President," he said. "I don't want you to think that we are selfish or that Republican congressmen from our part of the country are motivated solely by their own political futures. But our party is in real trouble in farm areas. Every poll and recent elections shows this to be true."

"The reason we came here today, Mr. President, is to respectfully request that something be done about Mr. Benson. Our party will continue to lose prestige with the farm vote if he remains in office until the November election."

DAIRY SUPPORTS MAY CONTINUE

The President thought for a moment, then favored his visitors with the traditional Eisenhower grin.

"Gentlemen, I knew the purpose of your visit today and I appreciate your frankness. I shall be equally frank with you. I have given this matter a lot of thought recently and want you to know that I recognize and am sympathetic with the problems of Republican members of Congress in farm areas."

"However, I have no intention of requesting the resignation of Mr. Benson. You may not agree with me, but I am convinced he is doing a good job. I could not in conscience fire a man I think is doing a good job."

"What if Mr. Benson voluntarily offers his resignation?" asked Rep. Miller. "Do you mind telling us how you might be disposed of in that event?"

"Well, that hasn't been done," replied the President, "and to the best of my knowledge is not in prospect. But I think I can tell you that Secretary Benson has agreed to reconsider his support price order that is effective on April 1. At the request of the White House, he is giving this further study and may have an announcement soon."

BILLBOARD WIFE

The state of Texas, biggest of the Union, has only one Republican congressman. He is Bruce Alger and he comes from Dallas where many Texans register Democratic, then vote Republican. Mr. Alger is seldom seen or heard in Washington. But back in Texas, his attractive wife is often seen, though not heard.

Her picture has been adorning the landscape on huge billboards advertising "Gladolade Cake Mix."

"I love to serve gladolade cake and coffee," says beautiful Mrs. Bruce Alger, on billboards which meet the eye along Texas highways.

Some congressmen remark that if Bruce Alger was seen as much around Washington as his wife is on the billboards of Texas, Dallas would have a real congressman.

Although the origin of April Fools' Day is disputed, the custom of playing practical jokes on the first day of April is believed to have first taken place in ancient India as a droll ceremony to mark the end of the spring festival of Holi.

New Signs Are Coming

Here's a long range preview of the new easy-to-read route markers you'll see on the country-wide network of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. Since many of the system's highways still have to be constructed, you may not see the signs for a while, but here's how they will look:

The primary sign is a 36-inch shield-shaped marker, similar to the shields used on U.S. routes since 1926. ReflectORIZED white print on a red and blue background will make it easy to see at night.

Signs will carry the word "Interstate," the name of the state, and the route number.
Route numbers will not exceed two digits unless a letter is added to indicate direction. Even numbers mean highways running east and west; odd numbers, north and south. Numbering will begin in the south and west, respectively.

A smaller, 24-inch, shield will be used on U.S. state or major city routes to indicate an intersection with an Interstate route.

An 18-inch sign, known as a "Trail Blazer," will be used to guide traffic to Interstate routes.

Early Care of Eyes Can Help Adults

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (UP) — Thousands of adults would not need eye glasses if they had sought preventive optometric care as children, according to Dr. Frank M. Kitchell, president of the New York State Optometric Association. Dr. Kitchell said optometrists should educate parents to the effect that "vision care is just as important to the well-being of the child as early dental and medical care."

He said "spectacular discoveries" have been made concerning the prevention of vision problems which develop during the late teens and 20's. The symptoms of these problems, he said, are detectable as early as five years of age but are not discovered in public school screening examinations.

The Hempstead optometrist said "vision problems which require correction get their start during the years of rapid growth when there are major changes in the child. As he goes through the higher grades in school and is required to do more reading, these vision problems worsen." Optical aids and vision training can do wonders for the visually handicapped child, the doctor said, and "the chances are good he won't have to wear glasses all the time as an adult."

Crescent Home Bureau Unit Meets With Mrs. Mary Piper

The Crescent Home Bureau unit met in the home of Mrs. Mary Piper recently. The major lesson, "Beef in Our Meals," was presented by Mrs. Wanda Taylor who served beef porcupines to demonstrate. Mrs. Vivian Harris gave the minor lesson, "How to Make a Machine Stitched Hem."

There was a white elephant sale during the recreation period and spirited bidding soon cleared the sale items. Mrs. Piper and her assistant hostess, Mrs. June Gibbons, served cherry tarts. Those present were: Mrs. Elaine Woolard, Mrs. Virginia Trammell, Mrs. Norma Carpenter, Mrs. Regina Skelley, Mrs. Wilma Irvin, Mrs. Marion Reynolds, Mrs. Betty R. Jarrell, Mrs. Jane Brown, Mrs. Larrie Land, Mrs. Retta Simmons, Mrs. Lea Price, Mrs. Vivian Harris, a visitor, Mrs. Jo Spradling, and the hostess.

Rainbow Workers S.S. Class Meets With Class Teacher

The Rainbow Workers Sunday school class held its February meeting recently in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Mary Wilkinson. Mrs. Ben Sisk, Jr., class president, opened the meeting and read from Psalm 139. The class joined in singing a hymn and Mrs. Sisk read a poem, "The World Is Mine." Mrs. Novella Sherrod led in prayer.

Birthday club dues were collected and games were played with prizes awarded to Novella Sherrod, Beulah Glass and Norma Carpenter. Refreshments of apple pan dowdy, coffee and soft drinks were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Norma Carpenter and Mrs. Wilma Irvin. Those present were: Barbara Reynolds, Wilma Grable, Novella Sherrod, Lodema Sisk, Leanna Hicks, Regina Shelley, Beulah Glass and the hostesses.

Sfc. George J. Dorris with his wife and children, Steven and Cindy, arrived in Harrisburg Wednesday for a week's visit with their parents and other relatives and friends. Sfc. Dorris is with the U. S. Army and has been stationed for the past two years at Fort Benning near Columbus, Ga. He has been assigned to three years in Germany and the family is en route to that duty. They are scheduled to sail March 15 from Savannah, Ga. This will be Sfc. Dorris' third assignment to Germany and Mrs. Dorris' second trip. Mrs. Dorris is the former Miss Carleen Nolen of Harrisburg and Sfc. Dorris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Dorris, 223 Midkiff street, Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hayes, 114 East Ford street, went to St. Louis Mo., today where Mrs. Hayes will enter Barnes hospital for observation and possible surgery.

George H. Melton is a patient at Holden hospital in Carbondale with an infected leg. His room number is 12.

Meet Rev. Dan Stone's Family At McKinley W.M.S. Friday

Rev. Dan Stone, the new pastor from Georgetown, Ky., who is starting his pastorate at McKinley Avenue Baptist church this week, and his family will be guests at an all day meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the church Friday. The meeting will start at 10 a. m. and continue until 3 p. m. with a covered dish dinner served at the noon hour.

The theme of the meeting will be "Faith Working Through Love."

The women of the church are urged to attend the meeting and visitors and friends of the church are welcome to take this opportunity to meet the pastor's family. Mrs. Helen Smith, president, and Mrs. Ruby Hilliard, program chairman, extend this invitation, acting for the W.M.U.

Illinois Dairy Ass'n Meeting At SIU March 12

The 18th annual meeting of the American Dairy Association of Illinois will be held on Wednesday, March 12, in the auditorium of the new agricultural building, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

This organization of Illinois dairy farmers last year invested over $402,000 in helping to tell consumers that milk and foods made from milk are today's best buy. In addition to advertising research, merchandising, and public relations programs help insure that the money invested is spent wisely to get the greatest return.

According to Milton C. Geuther, manager, a report will be made on the 1957 activities and plans for 1958 will be discussed. Nine of the 22 dairy farm directors will make 5 minute reports on their committee activities.

Directors in downstate Illinois include Ralph Rogier, Highland; John Horstman, Breese; S. E. McKemie, Benton; William Seltz, Sullivan; Chas. Hess, Bushnell; U. J. Austin, Rose Hill.

Ken, Ryan, June Dairy Month chairman, will discuss the promotion program which will include newspaper advertising and will be a "bigger and better" promotion than in 1957.

Barbara Corson, Illinois Dairy Princess, will act as hostess and also report on her activities and on the 1958 Illinois Dairy Princess contest that will be held in Peoria.

Wayne Churchill from the national American Dairy Association, will be the featured speaker. All dairy farmers and friends of the dairy industry are invited to attend.

Money Wind-Blown

CRANTON, Miss. (AP) — James Stewart is combing the woods for $100 bills. So far he has found about half of his $1,700 savings that a tornado scattered when it flattened his house last week. The money had been hidden in a freezer.

The Daily Register 30c a week

What to Do in Tornado Threat

Will a tornado leave you dead or alive?

The answer may depend on whether you know what to do. Protect yourself and your family by remembering these precautions suggested by the United States Weather Bureau:

When a tornado is coming, find shelter inside a substantial building. If there's a cellar or basement, go there. If not, lie down on the first floor under a table or bed. Keep away from windows.

If you're in open country, move at right angles with the tornado's path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in a ditch.

Above all, keep calm. No matter what the situation, panic will only make matters worse.

IAA President Warns Property Owners Would Pay Part of Bond Issue

Property tax owners may be saddened with part of the cost of the $248 million bond issue if voters approve the issue at the general election November 4, Otto Steffey, Illinois Agricultural Association president, warned today.

The Illinois Farm Bureau agrees there is a definite need for additional building by the six state universities and the Department of Public Welfare but if concerned about the financial aspects of the bond proposal.

"The bond issue to be submitted to the voters says that general revenue funds are to be used to pay interest and principal on the bonds to the extent that funds are available," Steffey explained.

"If general revenue funds are not enough to meet the obligation, the bill requires a direct annual tax upon real and personal property in the state," Steffey said.

With demands on the general fund growing—public school needs, public aid—especially if we have an extended recession or depression, higher state administrative costs of programs now authorized—the chances that the general fund will be exhausted is very real, Steffey warned.

"Once a state property tax is used to retire the bonds, it is likely to be continued as a source of revenue because it seems that temporary or emergency taxes are seldom discontinued once they have been established," declared the Illinois Farm leader.

Illinois had a state property tax before 1933 but it was abandoned in favor of a sales tax because it was unfair and an unjust burden on property taxpayers.

At their 1957 annual meeting, Illinois Agricultural Association voting delegates said they feel the $100 million plus interest cost on the $248 million bond issue is an unnecessary expenditure, especially when that money could be used for a school building program.

The delegates urged a "pay-as-you-go" plan.

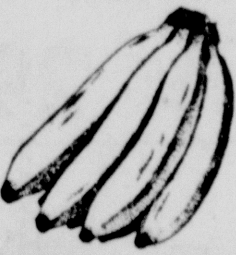

"We suggest a one-half cent increase in the state sales tax for a five-year period as an alternative to the bond issue," continued Steffey.

"At present levels this increase would amply supply the revenue and would supply it as rapidly as the money could be used in the wide-scale building program."

Plugging loopholes in the current state sales tax to include electrical appliances purchased under a building contract, and other items now tax exempt, would also help obtain needed revenue, Steffey said the burden imposed by the big bond issue would seriously prejudice the state's future ability to meet other crises perhaps just as urgent and as costly.

Report Expanded
Missile Training
At Chanute Base

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—The commander of Chanute Air Force Base Tuesday night reported a sharp expansion in missile training programs has been scheduled at the air base.

Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Kinney, speaking at a dinner in Urbana held by the Champaign-Urbana Jaycees, said training and associated training for missile operations "will grow steadily toward a position of about half of the Chanute total activity within the next few years."

Chanute is located near Rantoul, northeast of here.

Kinney said Chanute has a class in training now for missile power plant work, and a five million dollar ballistic missile training building will be erected this spring.

"Chanute already possesses the only rocket firing point in the air training command," the general said.

He said alterations of the interior of one of the large permanent buildings at Chanute "will provide training space for the 'Bomarc' interceptor missile."

"I have been assured by Maj. Gen. Ben Scheiber, head of the Air Force missile development program that an Atlas missile and its multiple power plants will be delivered to Chanute in April to be used as training devices," Kinney said.

The commander said "it is not unreasonable to expect" that the number of men assigned at Chanute will increase sharply during the next two to three years.

New Circulation Record Set by Daily Newspapers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A new circulation record was set by daily newspapers in the United States in 1957 for the sixth consecutive year, according to the 90th annual edition of N. W. Aver & Son's directory of newspapers and periodicals. The directory published Monday, showed an increase of nearly one-third million over last year in the combined circulation of English-language dailies, which reached 56,934,815.

By a million circulation to register a total of 22,527,000. Evening papers, with a daily circulation of 34,180,000, marked a drop of a few thousand. The seven all-day dailies in the nation recorded a circulation drop of 581,000. The Chicago Sun-Times change from all-day operations to only morning editions accounted for much of the morning papers' increase and the all-day drop. For the first time in six years, the number of newspapers increased.

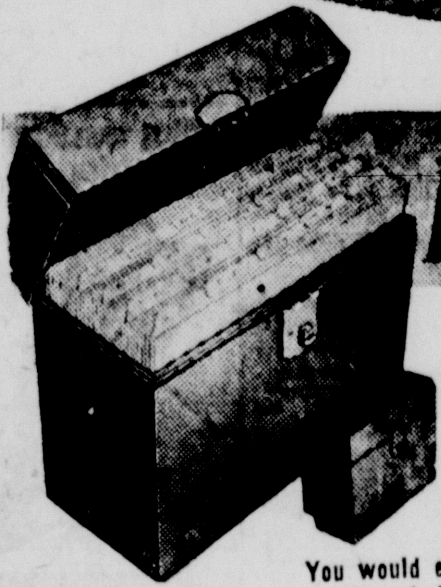

The figures, including both foreign and English-language dailies in this country, were: 1,481 evening papers, down 1; 356 morning papers, up 22; 558 Sunday papers, up 22, and seven all-day dailies, down 1.

Senate Group Investigating Adams Dairy Co.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate antitrust subcommittee today began investigating a Missouri dairy company which a competitor said led price wars so severe that one customer fed milk to his dog because it was cheaper than dog food.

Under investigation was the Adams Dairy Co., Blue Springs, Mo., and Adams Dairy Inc., St. Louis, both headed by Elmer C. Adams Sr., of Blue Springs.

One of 16 scheduled witnesses, Roy Sappington, president of the Central Dairy Co., Columbia, Mo., testified that he finally joined in an agreement with the Blue Springs Adams company to set the prices of retail and home delivered milk to "buy peace" from ruinous price wars started by Adams.

He said he would be "out of business today" if he hadn't agreed to a 5-cent spread between the price of milk sold in local chain stores and milk delivered to homes. Adams sells only to chain stores while Sappington delivers to homes as well as selling to chain stores.

Construction of the original White House cost the American taxpayers $400,000.

Shawneetown Legion Aids SYDA

St. Mihiel Post 585, American Legion, Shawneetown, voted Monday night to contribute $100 to the Saline Valley Development Association fund. The money probably will be used toward financing an exhibit at the Industrial Exposition to be held in New York next month.

The local post also voted to contribute $10 to the local heart fund drive and $10 to the Red Cross campaign.

National Popcorn Farmers Day To Be Held at Ridgway April 12

Big Celebration At Dedication Of Popcorn Village

Plans are under way for making Saturday, April 12, the biggest day in the history of Ridgway.

The big celebration will be in observance of National Popcorn Farmers Day and will pay tribute to popcorn farmers everywhere.

A highlight of the celebration will be the dedication of Popcorn Village and commemoration of the "100 Millionth" POP-RITE package (the brand packed at Ridgway, Popcorn Capital of the World).

Farmers will be honored in appreciation of their contributions to the popcorn industry. All will be given a tour of the big popcorn plant so they can see just what happens to their crop when it is being conditioned for the trade.

A "gold" commemorative can will be given each farmer, and valuable prizes, including large quantities of fertilizers and hybrid seed will also be given.

Insurance restrictions have previously prevented visitors to Popcorn Village. However, these restrictions have been rescinded for this occasion.

John Scherrer is representing the Ridgway Chamber of Commerce and the community in general for this celebration and Bill Robbins, plant manager at Popcorn Village will be official host for the National Popcorn Farmers Day Mayor Tyler Gauen is preparing to issue a proclamation for the occasion extending an official welcome to all and congratulating the sponsor of this outstanding event.

Committees from the Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations are volunteering to aid with the program in any way possible in order to help make it the success that it is destined to be.

Games, contests and entertainment are planned, details of which will be announced in the near future.

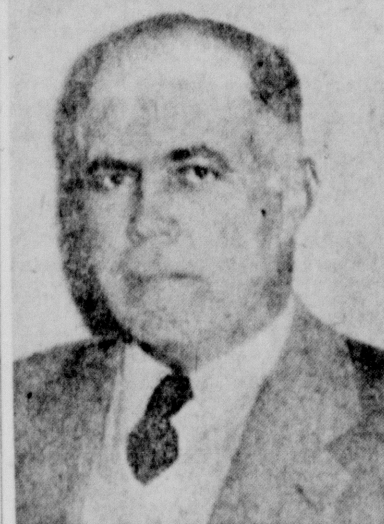

One of the contests already announced, is "New Ways" to Use Old-Fashioned Popcorn, and participants are invited to construct (in miniature) any one or all of the buildings in Popcorn Village, using popped popcorn; or to make decoration forms prepared from popped corn (or party table decoration centerpieces).

These can be prepared for any holiday motif, i. e., Christmas, Halloween, Valentine etc. Valuable prizes will be awarded to the first place winner in each category. High school home economics classes and women's organizations are expected to take a great interest in this contest.

Nation-wide publicity is being given this big celebration and popcorn people from many states are expected to be on hand for this celebration which is likely to bring the biggest crowd to Ridgway in the Village's history. Announcement has been made that the world's most famous popcorn stand has been obtained for display at Popcorn Village on this big occasion.

The famous popcorn stand was operated on the lawn of the White House for more than 38 years by a lovable old Greek, Steve Vasilakos, who became a personal friend of Kings and Presidents before he died in 1942.

Three times the stand made front page news across the nation when Washington police tried to drive Steve from the White House lawn. Each time a President of the United States intervened, and the stand remained.

Every President, from Theodore Roosevelt to Franklin D. Roosevelt, was a customer of Steve's. Letters from Franklin D. Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge, found among Steve's personal effects after his death, will be displayed with the stand. His vendor's permit for the machine will be there, too.

Other famous old popcorn machines of a by-gone era, now valuable museum pieces, will also be displayed during National Popcorn Farmers Day, is soliciting all old popcorn machines of days gone by for this National celebration.

"You hint at treachery?" Milo Biglow asked, his eyes steady on Ward Sebastian.

"Call it so," Sebastian said firmly. "They've experienced plenty of such from us, so it would only be natural for them to decide to give us some of the same in return. As I read the signs, everything points to a Modoc decision to fight this thing to a finish; even to virtual extinction for themselves."

Milo Biglow buried his thoughts in a cloud of cigar smoke, and when he spoke his tone was subdued.

"In the lava-bed fighting we haven't fared too well, have we?" "We've taken a complete and costly beating," Sebastian bluntly. "And it's not too hard to believe that perhaps it is the inevitable price of some of our past misdeeds, now catching up with us."

Milo Biglow made a quick turn. "Ward, I've said you had a way of being pointedly realistic. Sometimes you are almost disagreeably so."

"Sorry, sir. But I never could see any sense in trying to deny facts."

"Facts," Biglow murmured. "I've considerable respect for them myself. But facing them can be a trifle upsetting at times. However, I appreciate your dropping in, Ward."

Milo Biglow poured the drinks then stood before the hearth, staring at the flames while he warmed his glass with his cupped hands. When he spoke, his words were barely audible, a man voicing his thoughts.

"There is little point or profit in being identified with a project foredoomed to failure. I believe I can best serve the future by remaining where I am. But—will Washington ever beckon again?" He covered his doubt with brandy.

When, a little later, Ward Sebastian left, he carried conviction that there would be no serving on a peace commission by Milo Biglow.

At no time during the short evening had there been sign or mention of Anne. Yet Sebastian was certain she was in the house, because of the several lighted upstairs windows and because of his own trusted instincts.

Well, he knew no regret at not seeing her.

At the ranch Sebastian found a relieved and happy household, with Phil Ashland sufficiently recovered to be propped up in bed and take interest in solid nourishment.

Kitty Dutra, her full, dark beauty a soft and caressing thing, was ever at the bedside, and she and Phil had a way of looking at each other that closed out everyone else. Waiting his chance, Sebastian drew her aside.

"This, perhaps, I should have told you before, Kitty," he said gravely. "But with the concern over Phil I didn't want to add to the load."

She faced him steadily, her dark eyes intent. "What is it, Ward?" "It seems I'm always bringing you the rough word. First, it was about Nick. Now it's your brother, Yance. He went into the lava beds battle with some other civilian volunteers. He never came out, Kitty. But he died a good man."

She flinched slightly, a tinge of pallor flooding her cheeks. "You— you saw him?"

"And spoke with him. Neither he nor I realized it at the time, but that day Yance McCloud did his sister a great service. That day, though packing a mortal wound himself, Yance found Phil Ashland, when Phil was down and crying for water. And Yance gave Phil water he could have used himself, and so helped keep Phil alive until Sam and I came along with our stretcher. One big reason why that boy in the next room is with us, is because Yance McCloud measured up big when it counted. You can be proud of his memory, Kitty."

She wept softly. "Did he have any word for me?"

"For you only and particularly. He asked that he be remembered and remembered well."

She turned away blindly. "He will be—he will be—!"

Later, subdued but calm, she was again at Phil Ashland's bedside, watching while he slept.

Out in the kitchen, Connie Ashland spoke to Sebastian ruefully.

"In a world all their own, those two. All I'm good for is to run errands and keep out of the way. And I can remember, not very long ago, when I was the cherished young sister, the main feminine concern in Phil's life. Now I'm a rank outsider."

"You're just feeling a little too sorry for yourself."

"Perhaps," Connie admitted, smiling back at him. "I'm really very happy for both of them. Kitty is a grand person. I admit being doubtful at first, but no longer. For that matter," she went on, a number of things. Realities, some of them very stark ones. For instance, you worry me."

"I! Worry you! In what way?"

"I'm remembering a man you spoke of once, and what your avowed intentions were toward him. A man named Provo Holt."

A touch of remoteness settled over Sebastian. His reply was guarded.

"I've seen nothing of him since the day I ran him off this ranch."

"Ah! But you will. There's an inevitability about some things, and I feel that way about this."

FOX COLLARED BY FRUIT JAR MOUTH—A dead fox was found last week by Jessie Oldham while walking through his fields north of Shawneetown. Around the animal's neck was the mouth of a regular glass fruit jar. The jagged edge was toward the head and it is believed that this caused the fox's death.

It is conjectured that while the fox was young he apparently found something quite tasty in a fruit jar and forced his head inside the jar to satisfy his appetite. Unable to get the jar off it probably became broken and the mouth was left intact around his neck. The fox possibly wore the odd collar for several months until he grew so large that it either choked him or the jagged edge was forced into his throat. The fox, pictured above with grooved portion of can around neck, was about half grown.

Bob Hope Gets Visa to Visit Russia; Will Film Television Show There

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope got a visa to visit Russia by flying 3,000 miles in the wrong direction.

For days Hope cooled his heels in London waiting for permission to go to Moscow to film a television show. Finally, he gave up and flew here Wednesday to find the Soviet Embassy more than happy to grant him a visa.

"Apparently they saw my show," said Hope, who described himself as a "cultural exchange." He plans to leave for Moscow on March 14.

The fast-talking comic said his reception was entirely different from the "lot of trouble" he had at the Russian Embassy in London.

"They treated me like I was Red Skelton or Pinky Lee," he said.

Tamara Mamedov, the embassy's tall, dark cultural attaché said Hope's visa was waiting for him in London.

"Of course we can give it to him here too," she said with a shrug.

"Mr. Hope he is too fast. Technical things are not so fast."

Hope strode up the embassy. The Russians jovially pumped his hand and led him to an ornate gold-trimmed room on the second floor of the huge Victorian embassy building. They chatted with him for nearly an hour.

"I'm a cultural exchange," he said later. "But they haven't decided what to exchange for me yet. They haven't got Mickey Mouse. They wanted me to bring Old Dad with us—that's Bing. But I said no."

Hope said he hoped to have some Russian girls in his TV show but he didn't know which ones.

"I don't know if there are any Russian Jayne Mansfields," he said. "I don't know what types they grow there."

Hope popped a gold-tipped Russian cigarette in his mouth. Someone lighted it for him and asked how it tasted.

"Like caviar," he said, taking another Russian cigarette with a five-inch filter from his pocket and squinting into it.

"Ah, Khrushchev's picture," he said.

Sheriff Shot With Own Gun by Prisoners, Wives

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—A sheriff shot with his own gun in an escape by two handcuffed prisoner and their 14-year-old wives fought for his life today at St. Elizabeth hospital here.

Three of the fugitives were captured by state police an hour after the shooting Wednesday afternoon on the outskirts of Delphi, about 15 miles from here.

Picked up as they fled on foot after abandoning the sheriff's car were Glen W. Prophet, 29, the accused gunman; his wife, Rita, and Mrs. Frances Delk, all of Chicago.

Authorities searched the Delphi area through the night for the fourth escapee, John M. Delk, 19, also of Chicago, who they believe still is handcuffed and carrying a gun.

Physicians said Sheriff Calvin Carey had a "50-50 chance to live." He was listed in critical condition after surgery Wednesday night to remove a bullet in his stomach.

Carey and Deputy Sheriff John Miller were taking the prisoners, charged with burglarizing two high schools, from Lafayette to Delphi when the officers were attacked.

Matter of Fact

After the defeat of the South in the War Between the States, Confederate President Jefferson Davis was captured on May 10, 1865, near Irwinville, Ga. He was held prisoner, accused of treason, at Fort Monroe, Va., until May, 1867, when he was released. His last years were spent at Beauvoir, an estate on the Gulf of Mexico, near Biloxi, Miss. He died in New Orleans on Dec. 6, 1889.

Krejci Reports Scout Record Outstanding

The Egyptian Council Boy Scouts of America made an outstanding record for 1958 as reported by Scout Executive, Robert Krejci, to the members of the council. The Egyptian Council made gains in all three phases of the Boy Scout program: Cubbing, Scouting and Exploring. Local percentage increase exceeded the national average in the entire program. Scouting in the Southern Illinois area is now growing at a more rapid rate than it is nationally, Krejci stated.

Twenty-one boys achieved the honors ranks of Scouting—Eagle Scout and Quartermaster to top all previous years. Expansion in activities was also cited with the council exceeding its Jamboree quota, DuQuoin State Fair program, "Citizens Now" conference and trail hikes. The Three-Rivers Trail at Cairo in addition to serving local boys has attracted Scouts from 19 other councils in eight states, with a total of 700 hiking the trail over the nine months it has been in use.

Large increases were shown in leadership training, and program materials provided and uniforming of members. Four national staff members were brought into the council to aid in development work.

Securing ownership of its own office by the council was cited as an important step in providing improved service to the area.

Continued emphasis upon expansion of membership will be a keynote of the 1958 program. Steps to improve program quality will be carried out through monthly leadership round-tables, increased training of leadership and annual charter reviews.

District personnel expansion will be an objective with a goal of 45 to 50 members on each district committee. A special committee on Exploring will be created to increase service to the old er-boy field.

The council will launch a developmental and long-range plan to further improve the service of Scouting to the area. Committees to receive special emphasis are area development, personnel, public relations, relationships, finance, foundation and long-range.

A revised plan of operation for the council is planned to give stronger leadership to committees.

Bandit Loses Bout with Woman

VANDALIA, Ill. (AP)—Authorities today held a would-be bank robber who lost an argument with a woman bank employee.

Gene Macke, 30, Beardstown, was captured Wednesday as he fled from the Farina State Bank building. Macke has denied any connection with the attempted robbery.

State's Atty. M. J. Corbell said Macke apparently gained entrance to the rear of the bank before it opened, and then tried to overpower Mrs. Doris Kline when she showed up for work.

However, Mrs. Kline screamed and fought the bandit. She put up such a good struggle that the man fled.

A passerby, Arnold Witt, 40, tackled Macke, and with the aid of another man, Lonnie Dudman, held the suspect for Sheriff Dave Waltz. Macke was held in Fayette County jail here for federal authorities on a charge of attempted bank robbery.

Strike Cripples Dress Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—A "more than 100 per cent effective" strike Crippled New York City's biggest industry today and threatened the Easter parade from coast to coast.

Julius Hochman, chairman of the Dress Joint Board of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said 105,000 striking dress-makers in seven eastern states had been joined on the picket lines by employees of 50 non-union dress plants.

The strike has shut down almost three — quarters of the nation's dress production and a billion dollar a year segment of the garment industry which is the city's industrial backbone.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner planned to fly home from a Bahamian vacation Friday to begin round-the-clock mediation efforts if settlement is not reached before then. The strike began Wednesday.

At issue are money and the even thornier problem of contract enforcement in the dress industry which has about 2,000 individual employers and sets a different piece work wage rate for nearly every part of every design on the sewing machine line.

Stratton, Daley Pledge Support to Judicial Reform

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. Stratton and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley have pledged their all-out support for the proposed judicial reform amendment as the "next great step" toward improvement of government in Illinois.

The two political leaders spoke Wednesday at a lunch held here by the Illinois Committee for Modern Courts, which has organized to lead the campaign for the judicial reform amendment to the state constitution. The amendment will be voted on at the Nov. 4 election.

Stratton said his administration and the Republican Party would "unequivocally and completely" support the amendment.

"We will do everything in our power to pass it," he said.

Daley promised he would support the amendment "personally and officially." He said improvements already made in city and state government are to be carried forward. "One of the most important parts of the government, the judicial system, also must be improved."

Two Fugitives Captured Near Du Quoin

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Two men who fled the Pulaski County jail at Waynesville, Mo., Tuesday have been captured by Illinois state police and county officers near here.

A search for the two men began Wednesday night after Perry County Deputy Sheriff John Barber caught them attempting to take gasoline at his sawmill near Du Quoin. They turned off on a side road after he told them to follow him to Pinckneyville for questioning.

Leroy Hagan, 28, was captured this morning after a farmer, Maurice Lipe, spotted him hiding in some hay in his barn. Authorities had searched for Hagan since Wednesday night in the rugged spoils banks of the Fidelity strip mine five miles west of Du Quoin. They said he had swum a 70-foot mine lake during the night to evade them.

The other man, Lyle H. Donaldson, 26, was arrested Wednesday night as he walked out of a thickets on the mine property.

Shirk said the men had stolen the car they were driving at Waynesville. They abandoned it after escaping from the deputy.

Shirk said the men had been held at Waynesville on burglary larceny and forgery charges.

Navy Says Soviet Subs Probably Watch Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of Navy ordinance said Wednesday it is "likely" Russian submarines have been observing and possibly photographing U. S. missile launchings at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

But Rear Adm. F. S. Withington told a news conference he has no specific knowledge of such Soviet activities.

He said if a Navy ship spotted a Russian sub it would "harass" it by hovering above it until the Soviet craft was forced to surface because of battery and oxygen exhaustion.

Withington said the two vessels would then exchange identifications and if possible the Navy would try to photograph the Russian submarine.

Marie (The Body) McDonald in Tangle With Law Over New Tiff with Husband

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Marie (The Body) McDonald was all tangled up with the law today as a result of her latest transcontinental love fight.

Los Angeles police investigators are en route here by plane to question the blond actress on her statement Wednesday that her husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, had engineered her much-publicized kidnapping in January, 1957.

Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. William McKesson said he had already asked county authorities here to question the actress.

"Her press statements indicate that both she and Karl committed perjury before the Los Angeles grand jury" which investigated the kidnapping, McKesson said. "She also charges him with conspiracy to commit kidnapping, another felony."

Miss McDonald was abducted from her home by two men and released about 24 hours later in the desert near Indio, Calif.

She told a news conference Wednesday that she had paid the kidnapers $5,000 for her release and the information about her husband's part in the abduction.

She said she confronted her husband with the information and "he told me he did it in a fit of anger. He said to my mother: 'I'll ruin this girl.'"

"He begged me not to say anything about it," she said. But she said she got "sick and tired of having been the laughing stock of the country and taking the blame for my kidnapping being a hoax."

Calls Charge "Absurd"

She was also prompted apparently by a new tiff in her 11-year marriage battle with Karl. The couple was divorced once and has been separated several times since their re-marriage. Miss McDonald said Karl called her Tuesday morning asking for a reconciliation and then called again Tuesday night asking for a divorce, which she refused.

Karl issued a statement in Hollywood saying he was "shocked and stunned" at his wife's "absurd and ridiculous" charge.

"I think it's in bad taste to get publicity through this method. I feel quite sorry for Marie. She needs a great deal of help."

Miss McDonald promptly called another news conference to retort: "Oh, fiddle-dee-dee, I love Harry and Harry loves me. The children and I will be waiting until Harry gets over this latest bit of foolishness. I've had to contend with this many times in the past 11 years."

Flag Day, June 14, is observed as a legal holiday in Pennsylvania.

Warriors Seek to Nail Down Berth In Final Playoff

By United Press
The Philadelphia Warriors will try to nail down the final play off berth tonight in the National Basketball Association and even Vince Boryla, coach of the New York Knickerbockers, admitted that the Warriors will do it.

The Warriors need only one victory in their four remaining games or one loss by the Knicks in their remaining games to eliminate New York. If Philadelphia beats visiting Cincinnati tonight, the race is over.

After Syracuse's 102-91 victory over the Knicks Wednesday night Boryla said, "this all but did it. Philadelphia will win at least once more."

Bob Cousy's 22 points and 21 by Bill Sharman led the Boston Celtics to a 109-102 triumph over the St. Louis Hawks in the only other game.

Bull Dogs Trip Eldorado, 77-56; Equality Eliminated

Harrisburg and Ridgway, who won their first round games last night, meet at 8:30 tonight in the second semifinal contest of the Eldorado regional basketball tournament.

This game will be preceded by the tilt between Carrier Mills and Norris City at 7:00. These two teams won their way into the semifinals by beating Shawneetown and McLeansboro, respectively, Tuesday evening.

Both Harrisburg and Ridgway came through with easy victories last night although Ridgway had some uneasy moments in the second quarter.

Harrisburg stood out and shot over the Eldorado zone at a 477 clip to beat the Eagles, 77 to 56, and Ridgway eliminated Equality, 72 to 51.

Four Score in Double Figures

Harrisburg had four scorers in the double figures as they took an early lead and held it all the way through. Coach Al Adams' boys had a pretty good zone but the Harrisburg crew of John Dotson, over-passing until an opening at Leonard Willis of Eldorado was high scorer for this contest with 26 points. However, for Harrisburg, both Bob Pavelonis and Ray Hassett had 19 points, Kinch Jones had 12 and Ron Mavrn rd had 14. The other regular, John Stone, had 8.

Harrisburg took the lead on a basket by Stone and never relinquished it. At the quarter the Bull Dogs led 16-9 and at half-time the margin was extended to 36-21 as the locals outscored Eldorado 20-12. Harrisburg outscored Eldorado 20-14 in the third period, 20-14, to take a 56-25 lead at the end of the period although at one time in the frame the margin was 27 points at 47-24.

In the last quarter the teams, both with many substitutes playing, made 21 points each.

Suttner Scores 27 Points
For the contest Harrisburg hit 31 out of 65 field goals for its 477. Eldorado made 22 out of 59 for 373, a pretty fair average.

The second contest saw Bob Dallas' Ridgway team, which features the fabulous 6-11½ Roger Suttner, run away with its contest with Equality the first quarter, then saw Coach Tony Franc's Cardinals outscore their Gallatin county neighbors, 18 to 8, the second frame to come within one point, 30-29, as the ha' ended.

However, the threat ended there as Ridgway made nine points in a hurry at the outset of the second half while Equality was making but a lone bucket. The Ridgway lead was 54-40 at the end of the third quarter as the Eagles outscored the Cards 24-11.

Big Suttner, quite a threat when anywhere near the bucket, was high scorer of the evening with 27 points as he plunked through 13 field goals and a single free shot. His mate Clifford had 15 and Crawford had 14. For Equality H. Barnett had 14 points for scoring honors, followed by Glover and Henshaw with 10 each.

Snider, Podres, Zimmer Hurt In Auto Crash

By United Press
The Los Angeles Dodgers whose players stay healthy enough on the diamond but seemed jinxed on the highway held their breath today as doctors examined dry x-ray plates of Duke Snider's left knee and Johnny Podres' neck.

Snider, Podres and Don Zimmer all were injured Wednesday when a sports car driven by Snider veered off a road into a ditch. An examination of wet x-ray plates showed that Snider and Podres escaped broken bones but the final verdict awaited a medical report on the dry plates.

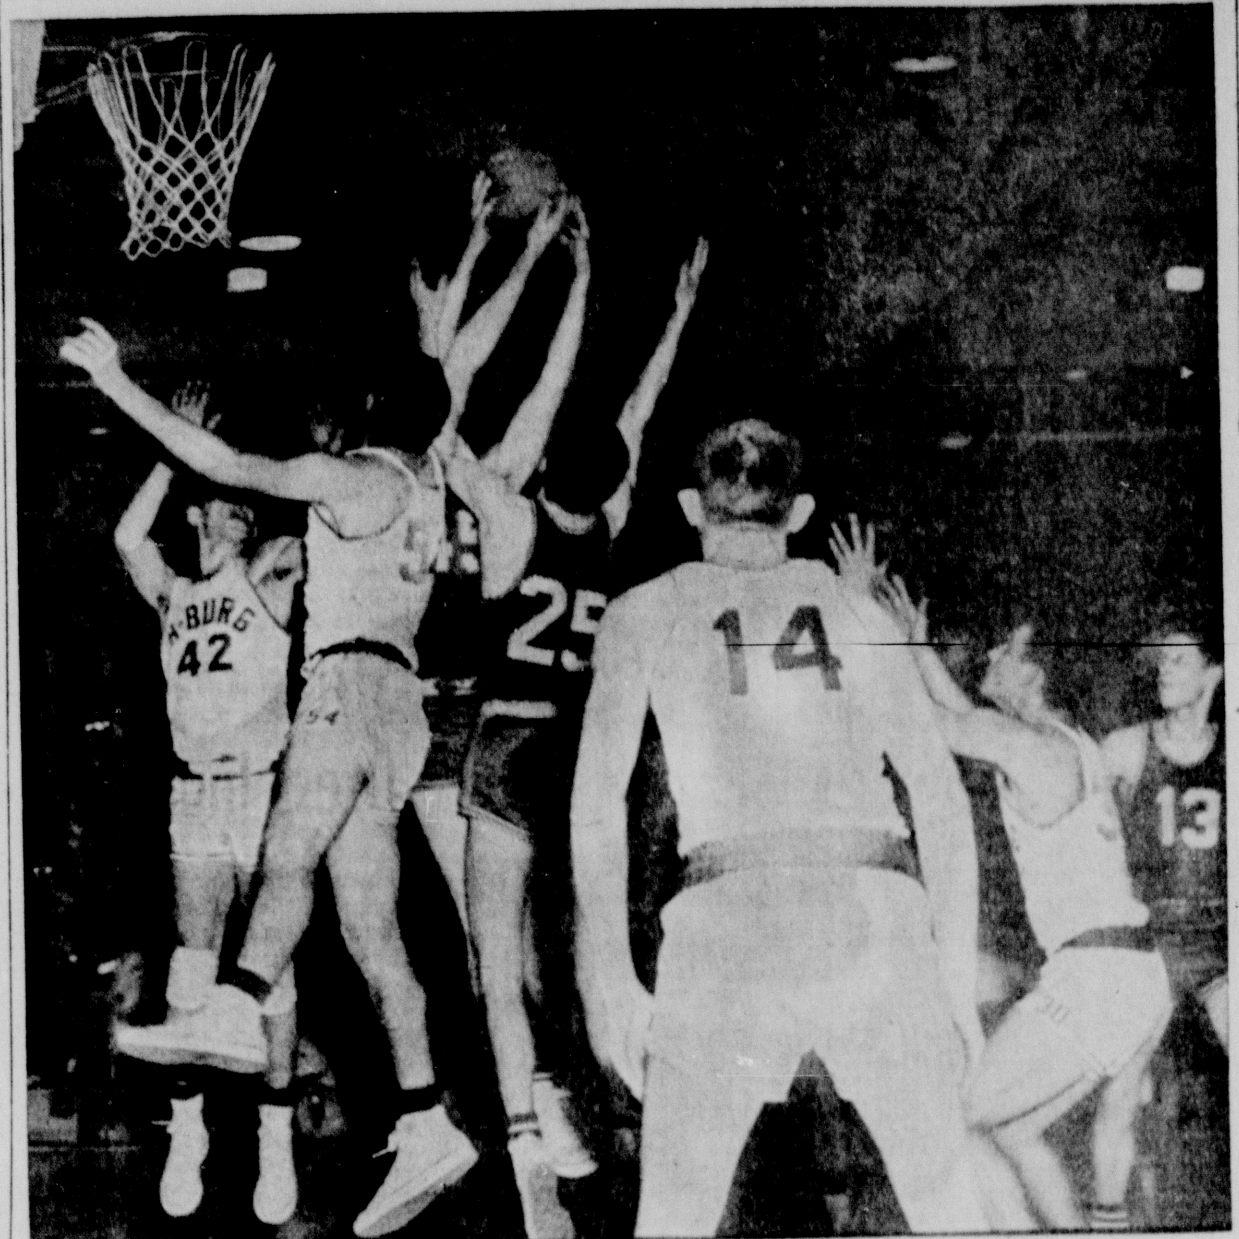

Zimmer suffered only a bruised forehead and played a full nine innings at shortstop in a camp game the same day. Snider and Podres watched from the stands.

Third Dozer Accident

The accident was the third involving Dodgers since last season. Catcher Roy Campanella suffered a broken neck when his auto cracked up at Glen Cove, N. Y., and still is paralyzed. Jim Gentile, a rookie first baseman, escaped with cuts on the arms when a trailer truck struck his car in California.

The most serious victims appeared to be pitcher Stan Pitula of the Cleveland Indians, outfielder Irv Noren of the St. Louis Cardinals and outfielder Al Smith of the Chicago White Sox. Pitula may be out two months with a torn muscle in the right elbow. Noren suffered a possible fractured rib when he crashed into a grandstand wall while chasing a ball. Smith will be out of uniform seven to 10 days with an inflamed tendon and tendon sheath.

Morris Thacker, a rookie catcher for the Chicago Cubs, was knocked unconscious when Chuck Tanner collided with him in a play at the plate. Bob Friend, the No. 1 pitcher on the Pittsburgh Pirates, turned his right ankle and limped off the practice field. Rookie outfielder Willie Kirkland of the San Francisco Giants suffered a pulled hamstring muscle.

WHO GETS THE BALL! Battling for a rebound in the Harrisburg victory over Eldorado Wednesday night are Harrisburg's Ronnie Maynard (54), Ray Hassett (42), and Eldorado's Larry Miller (25), and Mike McMahon (45). Bull Dogs Gary Stricklin (14) and Bill Yates (30) and Jack Muckley (13) of Eldorado are ready to move in. Harrisburg's rebounding, led by big Maynard, was an outstanding factor in keeping the Bull Dogs in the race for regional honors. (Register Staff Photo)
